The chart reflects a hypothetical return on investment assuming a federal personal income tax rate of 35%, is intended for illustrative purposes only, and is not intended to predict or project investment performance. This example is not intended to represent the performance of the Transamerica Intermediate Muni fund but is meant to visually show how the fund could deliver tax-exempt versus taxable earnings. Your own results will vary. State and local taxes, if any, fees, and expenses are not taken into account. If they were, certain results would be lower. Municipal bond funds are expected to be exempt from federal income tax. If a fund investor is a resident in the state of issuance of the bonds held by the fund, interest dividends may also be free of state and local income taxes. Such interest dividends may be subject to federal and/or state alternative minimum taxes. The comparison results would vary if a different tax rate were used.

<sup>1</sup>Source: Morningstar. For each fund with at least a 3-year history, Morningstar calculates a risk-adjusted return measure that accounts for variation in a fund's monthly performance (including the effects of all sales charges), placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of funds in each category receives a Morningstar Rating™ of 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. (Each share class is counted as a fraction of one fund and rated separately.) A fund's overall rating is derived from a weighted average of the 3-, 5-, and 10-year (if applicable) rating metrics. Morningstar Rating™ is for Class A shares only; other classes may have different performance characteristics.
