

Accomplished Golf Champion Azahara Munoz Joins Team Transamerica

LOS ANGELES – May 31, 2013 – Today, Transamerica announced that Azahara “Aza” Munoz, 2010 LPGA Rookie of the Year and winner of the 2012 Sybase Match Play Championship, is the newest member of Team Transamerica.

Munoz, 25, placed ninth at the Kia Classic in March, after ending the 2012 season eighth on the Tour money list with four top-five and nine top-10 finishes. A native of Spain, Aza first burst onto the golf scene by winning multiple national championships at Arizona State, where she graduated summa cum laude with a degree in psychology.

“Transamerica is a company that is committed to helping people take control of their future, both through financial education and the services they sell,” said Munoz. “That, along with their commitment to golf on so many levels, is why I’m very thankful and proud to be affiliated with them.”

Aza won her first professional tournament – the 2009 Madrid Ladies Masters in Spain. At Arizona State, she was the 2008 NCAA individual champion, a team champion, four-time all-American, and a two-time Edith Cummings Munson Award winner – given annually to the top collegiate golfer who also excels at academics.

“We believe Azahara is a special player who represents the new emerging face of women’s golf,” said Brenda Clancy, Transamerica’s Chief Operating Officer. “We’re extremely excited about our new relationship with Aza, and we wish her the best of luck.”

Team Transamerica includes Masters champion and nine-time PGA Tour winner Zach Johnson, along with former Clemson standout and 2012 Waste Management Phoenix Open champion Kyle Stanley.
