

Transamerica Reopens International Small Cap Value fund

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DENVER, February 4, 2019 – Transamerica announced today the reopening of the Transamerica International Small Cap Value fund Class I (TISVX) to new investors, effective immediately.

“We want to provide investors with the opportunity to participate in the performance of the international small cap value markets,” said Tom Wald, chief investment officer for Transamerica Asset Management, Inc. “We are pleased to be offering, once again, our International Small Cap Value fund to new investors. It is a valuable part of our extensive selection of investment strategies that can help investors create a well-diversified portfolio.”

The Transamerica International Small Cap Value fund seeks maximum long-term total return by investing in approximately 80 to 120 equity securities of small-cap companies outside of the U.S. The fund’s sub-adviser, Thompson, Siegel & Walmsley LLC, has managed the fund since its inception in January 2013.

Previously, the Transamerica International Small Cap Value fund had been open only to existing investors since November 2014.
